

Martin Baldwin-Edwards is co-founder and Co-Director of the Mediterranean Migration Observatory, Panteion University, Athens (since 1999). His most recent research is a substantial report on immigration and labour markets in the countries of the Gulf Co-operation Council, prepared for the Kuwait Programme at the London School of Economic (forthcoming). In 2007/8 he was scientific co-ordinator of the REGINE study (Regularisations in Europe. Study on practices in the area of regularisation of illegally staying third-country nationals in the Member States of the EU) for the European Commission, DG Justice awarded to the International Centre for Migration Policy Development (ICMPD), Vienna. Previous appointments include General Director, Antigone (EU RAXEN network on Racism and Xenophobia) in 2003; Visiting Professor/Jean Monnet Fellow in International Migration at the European University Institute, Florence (1997/8); Research Fellow, European Institute, Queen's University, Belfast (1994–7); and lectureships at the Universities of Manchester (Victoria and MMU) and Hull in social policy, economics, political science and European Studies. He is also a Founding Editor (1994) of the academic journal South European Society & Politics published by Routledge.

In recent years, he has served as a consultant or advisor on migration issues in the Mediterranean, Middle East and Balkan regions for leading international and intergovernmental agencies, including: the United Nations Development Programme, ICMPD, the European Commission training seminars for diplomats (Diplomatic Academy, Malta), the East-West Institute in Brussels, the International Organization for Migration (IOM), the European Council on Refugees and Exiles (ECRE), the Global Commission on International Migration (GCIM), the UN Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE) and the governments of Greece, Spain and Italy. He was an expert witness for the Council of Europe Parliamentary Assembly, Migration Committee's Hearing on Regularisation of Illegal Migrants in 2006, and has also served as an expert witness on Greece for ECRI, Council of Europe.

He has published more than 70 articles, reports and books since 1989. Recent publications include: (with A. Kraler, 2009), REGINE: Regularisations in Europe, Amsterdam UP; 'How to cut the Gordian knot of Europe's muddled immigration policies', Europe's World, Spring 2009; (with K. Apostolatu) 'Statistics and Reality: Greece', in H. Fassmann et al., eds., (2009), Statistics and Reality, Amsterdam UP; 'Towards a theory of illegal migration: historical and structural components', Third World Quarterly (2008); (with K. Apostolatu) 'Ethnicité et migration: une histoire grecque', Migrance (2008); 'La migración en África subsahariana y el Magreb', Vanguardia Dossier (2008); 'Navigating between Scylla and Charybdis: Migration policies for a Romania within the European Union', South East European and Black Sea Studies (2007); 'La migración en la región del Mediterraneo', Vanguardia Dossier (2007); 'Between a Rock and a Hard Place: North Africa as a region of emigration, immigration and transit migration', Review of African Political Economy (2006); 'Migration between Greece and Turkey: from the "Exchange of Populations" to the non-recognition of borders', South East Europe Review (2006).

Biographical Note: Martin Baldwin-Edwards, December 2010